DENNIS WILLIAMS, MARY ANN WILLIAMS and CARRIA WILLIAMS WALTER

vs.

COMMUNITY BANK, ELLISVILLE, COMMUNITY BANCSHARES OF MISSISSIPPI, INC., COMMUNITY OPERATIONS, INC., SETH MILES and DOES 1 through 10

CALISEN

LAMAR COUNTY JAN 28 2019 CIRCU

DEFENDANTS

COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY, INJUNCTIVE AND OTHER RELIEF (Jury Trial Demanded)

Plaintiffs Dennis Williams, Mary Ann Williams ("Mr. and Mrs. Williams") and Carria Williams Walter (sometimes collectively, "the Williamses" or "Plaintiffs") file this Complaint seeking declaratory, injunctive and other relief against Defendants Community Bank, Ellisville, Community Bancshares of Mississippi, Inc., Community Operations, Inc., Seth Miles and Does 1 through 10 (sometimes collectively, "the Bank" or "Defendants"), and for cause of action state as follows:

INTRODUCTION

- 1. Plaintiffs bring this action pursuant to Rule 57 of the Mississippi Rules of Civil Procedure, seeking a judicial determination of the respective rights and liabilities of the parties under a promissory note, two deeds of trust and other documents (collectively, "the loan documents") in connection with a loan the Bank made to them on January 28, 2016 ("the loan transaction" or "the loan").
- 2. An actual controversy has arisen and now exists between Plaintiffs and the Bank regarding the loan transaction and the loan documents, as the Bank claims that the Williamses owe almost $170,000 pursuant to the loan transaction and the terms of the loan documents, but Plaintiffs Case: 37CI1:19-cv-00009-AM Document #: 2 Filed: 01/28/2019 Page 2 of 21 disclaim any obligation or liability on the ground that Defendants have engaged and continue to engage in predatory lending practices and unfair and deceptive acts and practices in violation of the Mississippi and federal consumer protection laws identified in this Complaint (collectively, "the consumer protection laws"). See infra ? 71 (identifying laws); see also infra ? 15-17 ("Preliminary Statement").

- 3. Plaintiffs therefore request a declaration judgment regarding the parties' respective rights, liability and/or obligations under the loan documents, loan and loan transaction in which the Court determines and declares:
- a. Whether the consumer protection laws applied to and governed the loan, the loan transaction, and the actions, rights, duties and liabilities of the parties before and during the loan transaction:
- b. Whether the consumer protection laws continue to apply to and govern the actions, rights, duties and liabilities of the parties in connection with the servicing and other activities in connection with the loan:
- c. Whether the actions and inactions of the Defendants alleged in this Complaint violate the consumer protection laws; and
- d. Whether Plaintiffs are entitled to relief and, if so, a declaration of the relief to which they are entitled.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

- 15. In this Complaint, Plaintiffs assert their belief that the consumer protection laws apply to and govern the loan transaction, and that the loan documents and the acts and omissions of Defendants alleged herein violate those laws in numerous respects, entitling Plaintiffs to declaratory, injunctive and other relief.
- breach or repudiation of the subject contracts, and nothing stated herein may be construed as a refusal by Plaintiffs, express or implied, to continue to comply with their contractual obligations. See R.T. Clark & Co. v. Miller, 122 So. 475, 481 (Miss. 1929) (under Mississippi law, anticipatory repudiation or breach requires "a distinct, unequivocal and absolute refusal to perform"); see also Principal Life Ins. Co. v. Lawrence Rucker 2007 Ins. Trust 574 F. Supp. 21562, 568 (D. Del.

2009) (holding that "an action for declaratory judgment does not indicate an unconditional refusal to comply with contractual obligations" and "join[ing] a chorus of other jurisdictions in finding that ... statements made in the context of a declaratory judgment action are insufficient to establish repudiation as a matter of law"), and id. at 568 n.34 (collecting cases); Harrison v. Cabot Oil & Gas Corp., 110 A.3d 178, 184-86 (Pa. 2015) (stating "[i]t is widely recognized ... that the filing of declaratory judgment action merely contesting the validity or scope of an agreement does not entail such an unequivocal refusal to perform" and holding such filing does not constitute anticipatory repudiation or breach), and id. at n. 4 (collecting cases); 23 Williston on Contracts § 63:47 (4th ed., Nov. 2018 update) ("[1]the commencement of a declaratory action does not constitute an anticipatory breach because a declaratory judgment action merely seeks to define the rights and obligations of the parties."), and id. n. 51 (collecting cases); Restatement (Second) of Contracts § 250 cmt. d (1981) (collecting cases).

17. At all times, Plaintiffs have fully complied with the terms, conditions and provisions in the loan documents and will continue to honor their contractual obligations in the event of an unfavorable ruling by this Court.

FACTS

- 18. The Williamses built their home at 3690 Highway 589 in Sumrall, Mississippi in 2001, since which time they have resided there and made it their homestead.
- 19. The Williamses intended to eventually sell their home and move into a smaller residence after their children grew up and moved away.
- 20. In late November or early December 2015, the Williamses became aware of an opportunity to purchase approximately twenty-three (23) acres of vacant land ("the Property") located directly across the highway from their home.

21. The Property was ideally situated and suited for the Williamses' plans. But the purchase price was $184,000, and the Williamses live on a limited income, as Mr. Williams was (and remains) disabled and receives a fixed monthly disability check, and Mrs. Williams is a retired seamstress. However, despite their limited income, through disciplined, frugal living, the Williamses had managed to pay off all but approximately $20,000 of the mortgage on their home, and they had also worked hard to achieve and maintain high credit scores.

- 22. Therefore, the Williamses wanted to buy the Property and discussed how they might be able to do so with their daughter. Carria Williams ("Carria"), perhaps by pooling their collective limited income and assets. Carria told her parents that she knew and trusted a loan officer who worked at the Bank named Seth Miles based on her previous dealings with him. Carria told her parents that she would contact Miles, ask for his advice and guidance, and that they apply for a loan from the Bank where he worked.
- 23. Shortly thereafter. Carria contacted Miles and told him that Plaintiffs wanted to purchase the Property. But given the purchase price of the Property and Plaintiffs' financial situation, including their limited income and assets (which Carria fully disclosed), they wanted to apply for a loan from the Bank to buy the Property.
- 24. In December 2015 and over the next month, Plaintiffs asked Miles for his advice and an application for them to obtain a loan to purchase the Property.
- 25. Plaintiffs told Miles that they were making the application for a loan through the Bank because they trusted him based upon his previous dealings with Carria, and that they would rely upon his advice based upon that trust.
- 26. Plaintiffs told Miles that there were two critical requirements that must be met before they could agree to any loan: (a) that they must be able to afford the monthly payments;

Mi The

Case: 37CI1:19-cv-00009-AM Document #: 2 Filed: 01/28/2019 Page 8 of 21 and (b) that the loan be fully amortizing.

- 27. Miles ascertained that Mr. and Mrs. Williams had been making mortgage payments on their home in the amount of approximately $1,200 per month, and reassured Plaintiffs that the Bank could make them a loan to buy the Property for approximately the same amount and on the same terms. Miles also reassured Plaintiffs that the loan would be fully amortizing.
- 28. Miles stated that the balance of Mr. and Mrs. Williams' mortgage would have to be paid off so that they would not have to continue paying the monthly payments of $1,200 in addition to the payments on the loan to buy the Property.
- 29. Miles also informed Plaintiffs that, in addition to the Property, Mr. and Mrs. Williams' home would have to be additional collateral, but that they should not worry because the Bank would release Mr. and Mrs. Williams' home as collateral for the loan in no less than three (3) years.
- 30. Plaintiffs had applied to the Bank for a loan and intended to be the borrowers. However, Miles told them that the Bank required the loan to be a "business" loan and that they must form a limited liability company ("LLC") purchase the Property and be the "borrower" on the loan. Miles represented to Plaintiffs that such actions were not only required, but would benefit them because interest rates for commercial loans were lower than consumer mortgage loans, and also that conducting the transaction through an LLC would protect them from individual liability.
- 31. Unknown to the Williamses, the Bank's representations were not only false, but made for unlawful purposes.
- 32. The Bank knew that it would be grossly overcollateralized by including Mr. and Mrs. Williams' home as collateral for the loan, and that including their home as security for the loan was unnecessary because the value of the Property would adequately secure the loan.

LAMAR COUNTY JAN 28 2013 CIRCUIT

33. The Bank knew but did not disclose to Plaintiffs that it was violating the prohibition against "asset-based lending" by extending credit to Plaintiffs based on the value of the collateral rather than considering their current and expected income, current obligations and employment status to determine whether they were able to make the scheduled payments to repay the obligation.

- 34. Furthermore, the Bank knew but did not disclose to Plaintiffs that it was intentionally structuring the loan transaction for unlawful purposes and for its own benefit, and against the interests of Plaintiffs.
- 35. By requiring that the loan be characterized as being made for "business purposes" and that Plaintiffs form an LLC to purchase the Property and be the "borrower" on the loan, the Bank orchestrated and induced the creation of a "ingle-Purpose-Entity ("SPE").
- 36. Plaintiffs had applied for the loan but were re-directed to the SPE-owner/guaranty structure by Defendants. The Bank required Carria and Mr. Williams to enter into "sham guaranties" in which the legal relationship between them as guarantors and the purported primary borrower/debtor (CAAAW, LLC) did not separate them from the primary obligation, structuring the loan transaction in a manner designed to disguise the primary debtors as guarantors. Defendants structured the loan transaction in this way in an unlawful attempt to subvert the purpose of and circumvent the consumer protection laws.
- 37. As the actual principal obligors, Plaintiffs could not as a matter of law "guaranty" their own debt. Consequently, the purported guaranties are superfluous, unenforceable and of no legal effect. Moreover, the supposed guaranties signed by Carria and Mr. Williams are ineffective to invalidate Plaintiffs' status as consumers, nor do the purported guaranties circumvent the application of the consumer protection laws or their protections to Plaintiffs.
 - 38. Defendants orchestration of the formation of a duming LLC, and their requirement

Case: 37CI1:19-cv-00009-AM Document #: 2 Filed: 01/28/2019 Page 10 of 21 that the LLC purchase the Property and be the "borrower" on the loan, was nothing more than a deceitful attempt to shield Defendants from the consumer protection laws and deprive Plaintiffs of consumer claims which Defendants knew Plaintiffs would be entitled to assert based upon the loan documents and Defendants' unlawful actions in connection with the loan transaction.

39. Defendants also knew but did not disclose to Plaintiffs that their self-serving purpose in requiring that the Property be purchased by an LLC and the loan be made in its name was to create a SPE (or a "bankruptcy remote entity"), whose assets are likely to be exempt from being administered as property of a bankruptcy estate. Thus, another real but undisclosed reason for the Bank's insistence upon the SPE-owner guaranty structure of the loan transaction was to strip Plaintiffs of protections they would ordinarily have as borrowers in the event they had to file for bankruptcy, a structure designed to benefit the Bank to the detriment of Plaintiffs.

- 40. Again, Plaintiffs were under the belief that they were entering into a consumer loan transaction, and they were (and are) the de facto principal obligors on the loan. Contrary to Defendants' representations and unbeknownst to Plaintiffs, Plaintiffs not only derived no protection or benefit from the SPL-owner gaurancy structure of the loan, but as unconditional, absolute guarantors, they were stripped of numerous important protections that borrowers have.
- 41. Defendants' actions also constitute unlawful "steering." After Plaintiffs applied for a consumer loan, the Bank steered them to a loan that was clearly against their interests. The Bank acted in bad faith by failing to offer Plaintiffs a loan with the lowest rate, lowest cost, and least risky alternatives (e.g., no balloon payments and similar provisions) for which Plaintiffs could reasonably expect to qualify.
- 42. Indeed, the Bank steered Plaintiff to an over-collateralized, asset-based loan that they would clearly be unable to pay, with the expectation that Plaintiffs would default and the

- 43. Defendants unlawfully failed to even consider the interests of Plaintiffs, and instead deceitfully acted in their own interests in earning greater mortgage origination compensation, making as much money as they could from Philatiffs, and expecting to further profit from the seizure of both the Property and Mr. and Mrs. Williams' home upon almost certain default.
- 44. Among other things. Defendants misrepresented to Plaintiffs that the loan to purchase the Property had terms and payment requirements that were essentially the same as the mortgage being paid by Mr. and Mrs. Williams.
- 45. Defendants knew their representations were false and made them for the purpose of inducing Plaintiffs to rely on them.
- 46. Defendants also knew that they were not disclosing material facts to Plaintiffs, that Plaintiffs were unaware of those material facts and did not disclose those material facts to Plaintiffs for the purpose of inducing Plaintiffs to act to their detriment.
- 47. Plaintiffs did in fact rely upon Defendants' misrepresentations and nondisclosures of material facts by taking specific actions to their detriment which they would not have otherwise taken had they known the truth.
- 48. Plaintiffs did not know how to form an LLC but were given instructions on how to do so by Miles. Pursuant to those instructions, on December 21, 2015, Plaintiffs formed a Mississippi limited liability company called CAAAW, LLC.
- 49. The company was formed at 6. Bank's insistence for the sole purpose of purchasing the Property and being the "borrower" of a loan from the Bank. As the Bank intended, CAAAW, LLC was and remains a dummy LLC and an SPE. Among other things:

a. The only members of the LLC are Carria Williams, Dennis Williams and Mary Ann Williams:

- b. The LLC's address is the home address of Mr. and Mrs. Williams' home;
- c. The LLC had no business plan, and none was requested by the Bank because it knew the LLC was not a "business":
- d. The LLC had no past or pro forma financial statements, and the Bank requested neither because it knew none existed:
- e. The LLC had no assets and, other than being the ostensible "owner" of the Property, has none today: and
- f. The LLC's only "debt" is the loan from the Bank, which is paid each month with a personal check from Mr. and Mrs. Williams, as the company has no bank account.
- 50. Pursuant to the Bank's instructions, on December 31, 2015, Plaintiffs cobbled together their money and paid off the remaining 520,460.10 balance on Mr. and Mrs. Williams' home mortgage, about half of which was paid by Carria.
- 51. Pursuant to the Bank's instructions, on January 15, 2016, CAAAW entered into a contract to purchase the Property for $184,000,00.
- 52. Pursuant to the Bank's instructions, on January 28, 2016, Plaintiffs caused CAAAW to enter into a Promissory Note with the Bank in the amount of $183, 788.28, at an interest rate of 4.5%.
- 53. Contrary to the Bank's representation, "business" loans do not receive lower interest rates than consumer loans, especially when the loan is fully secured (much less as in this case, where the loan is over-collateralized). Plaintiffs did not receive a lower interest rate by virtue of the Bank's characterization of the loan as a "business" loan.

LAMAR JAN 28 2013 CHROUT CLERK

54. Contrary to the Bank's previous representations and assurances, the Note was not fully amortizing. It was a balloon note requiring 59 monthly payments of $1,159.71, followed by a single lump sum payment of $152.746.42 which Plaintiffs would be required to make on the 60th month, which the Bank knew Plaintiffs could not afford to pay.

- 55. At no time before, during or in connection with the loan process did the Bank conduct any sort of analysis regarding Plaintiffs' ability to repay the loan in accordance with its terms. The Bank did not consider Plaintiffs' current and expected income, current obligations and/or employment status to determine whether they would be able to make the scheduled payments, much less the lump sum payment of $152.746.42.
- 56. Defendants made the loan an "in-house" loan because they knew it was unlawful and could not be sold to third-party mortgage to an purchasers, much less to Fannie Mae and/or Freddie Mac.
- 57. The Bank labeled the loan a "Nondiscloseable Loan to a Limited Liability Company" and required Plaintiff to sign as atom, at that the "primary purpose of this loan is for Business (Including Real Estate Investment)."
- 58. Without information or input from Plaintiffs, the Bank determined and required that the loan was to be made for a "business purpose." Determining the true purpose of a loan not pre-determining and dictating its purported "purpose" is the responsibility of the lender. At no time during the loan origination process did the Bank analyze or consider any factors to determine whether the loan is made for a "business purpose" versus a "consumer purpose." Proper and truthful application of those factors shows that the loan was not for a business purpose. Among other things:

a. There was and is no relationship between the occupations of Plaintiffs to

- b. Plaintiffs never intended to "personally manage" the Property and have not done so. There is nothing to manage. The traperty is vacant land upon which Plaintiffs intend and have always intended to build personal homes. They did not purchase the Property with the intention of developing, subdividing and/or selling it.
- c. The "ratio of income from the acquisition" to Plaintiffs' total income is zero, because Property was not intended to provide and has not provided them with any income.
- d. The Property was not acquired to expand a business owned by the Williamses. Again, Mr. Williams is disabled and has no business; Mrs. Williams is a retired seamstress; and Carria is a paralegal.
- e. Plaintiffs' motive for or daining the loan to purchase the Property was clearly not for any business purpose. Their "statement of purpose" otherwise was required by the Bank as a condition for obtaining the loan.
- 59. The Bank's form, label and or constructerization of the loan was intended to evade the consumer protection laws and does not reflect or represent the actual substance and purpose of the loan transaction. The Bank's attempted the ar draftsmanship, deceit, subterfuge, camouflage and concealment in the structuring of the instruments and loan transaction to circumvent those laws was and was unlawful, ineffectual, null and coid.
- 60. The legislative purpose of the consumer protection laws may not be subverted by the Bank's evasive, deceitful tactics. When locating at the actual purpose and effect of the loan documents, the Court should disregard the Bank's false characterization of the loan and its unlawful structure of the loan transaction.

LAMAR JAN 28 2010 CIRCUIT CLERK

61. The Bank required Mr. Williams and Carria to personally guaranty the loan by signing absolute, unconditional guaranties.

- 62. This case presents a classic textbook example of a "sham guaranty." Neither Mr. Williams nor Carria is a true guarantor; both are principal obligors in guarantors' guise.
- 63. CAAAW, LLC was and is a single-property LLC owned by Plaintiffs formed strictly for the purpose of this loan transaction.
- 64. At all times, the Bank was aware that CAAAW, LLC was formed strictly to hold title to the Property. The Bank for its own fir a relative purposes required Plaintiffs to form CAAAW, LLC to hold title to the Property and be the "borrower" on the loan. The Bank required Mr. Williams and Carria to execute guaranties on the loan to acquire the Property.
- and considered any financial information regulated qualifications and repayment abilities, it only sought such information from Plaintiffs. The Bank did not issue the loan based upon any qualification of CAAAW, LLC, and indeed not on the basis of Plaintiffs' ability to repay the loan.
- 66. The reason given by the Bank of menting CAAAW, LLC was a ruse. Contrary to the Bank's representation, the fact that CAAAAA was the ostensible "borrower" did not protect Plaintiffs from personal liability or beneficially in any way whatsoever. On the contrary, by signing unconditional, absolute personal grammatics. Plaintiffs forfeited numerous significant rights and protections they would have had as borrowers/primary obligors. As guarantors, the Williamses were exposed to much more personal, hadividual liability than they would have been had they been formally named as borrower.
- 67. As a condition for making the foan, the Bank required it to be secured by both the Property to be purchased with the loan property and Mr. and Mrs. Williams' home and the

- 68. As a result, the loan's "lob and alue" (LTV) far exceeded that necessary or required to make the loan.
- 69. The Bank did not provide Plandfalk with any appraisals of Mr. and Mrs. Williams' home or the Property. Had it done so, Plainting would have been aware that the Bank was grossly overcapitalized.
- 70. Contrary to the Bank's representation, the loan documents contained no provision which would allow Mr. and Mrs. Williams' Longe to be released as collateral, much less in three (3) years as expressly represented.
